now available on vinyl!

P. Lion's song „Happy Children“ became one of the biggest hits of the Italo Disco era.

Besides „Happy Children“ fans can look forward to great hits like „Dream“, „Under The Moon“ or „Springtime“ in extra-long versions. Furthermore, the exclusive mega-mix by Italo Disco legend Flemming Dalum is a special highlight on this LP.

Title: Death In The Nursery

Artist: LEGEND

In 1981, the heyday of the New Wave Of British Heavy Metal, the band LEGEND from the island of Jersey (UK) released their eponymous debut album, released at the small label Workshop Records. Of course, they chose a perfect name for a band playing hard rock, but without web search one hardly could know that they were not the only LEGEND.

One year later LEGEND followed up: The LP „Death In The Nursery“ was released at the same label and with the same line-up. The pieces became tighter and shorter, but the actual style of the quartet fortunately remained unchanged.

Also the quality of the production reflects the sound of a small studio somewhere on the island of Jersey in 1982. Even a remastering can't change the rattling sound much. But for many fans it's this aspect that makes „Death In The Nursery“ so special, as well as ingenious songs like „Choices“ or „Why Don't You Kill Me?

In 2002, the US underground label Monster Records released a double CD with the first two albums supplemented by additional material. The German band Roxxcalibur even opened their third album „Gems Of The NWOBHM“ (2015) with a Legend cover version, Svart Records and High Roller provided LP reissues.

Pete Haworth, guitarist and founding member, expressed his enthusiasm about the idea of Golden Core/ZYX to release the first two albums separately (!) as a CD with a new remaster, supplemented by the „Frontline“ EP. On the „Anthology“ double CD from 2002 the speed was not right after the tape overdubbing, which always bothered the guitarist. So, the collaboration between Golden Core / ZYX and the band was signed and while the scope of the two CDs was still being discussed, Pete died suddenly and unexpected. Golden Core forwarded the email correspondence to the remaining band members and they still agreed to the release; not at least to honor the memory of Pete Haworth.

„Death In The Nursery“ was overdubbed and cleaned from an original Workshop Records LP by Patrick Engel and then remastered by Neudi. Two band members provided rare photos and memorabilia, as well as liner notes. The „Frontline“ EP is split between both Golden Core rereleases. The reissue CD „Legend“ already contained the A side. On this disc now the B-side is included as a bonus (two songs).

Title: Protectors Of The LairArtist: GRIFFIN

Vinyl

After the successful 3 CD box set and the LP „Flight Of The Griffin“, Golden Core now releases the second album of the cult US metal band GRIFFIN on vinyl.

While the debut album offers rather pure, traditional Heavy Metal, the follow-up work by the band around the exceptional singer William McKay sounds more like Speed and Thrash Metal combined with Griffin's distinctive musical trademarks.

„Protectors Of The Lair“ was released in 1986 at Steamhammer/SPV, and therefore this second album was more widespread in Europe for a few years than „Flight Of The Griffin“. Musically the band was at the speed of life, but the style can also be described as kind of oddball.

However, the biggest drawback was always the weak sound, which was almost only in the mids and trebles. This problem was now solved in a double sense!

Fortunately, the original 24-track tapes still existed and could be recorded over after some repairs.

As a result, not only a remaster could be done, but also a remix made by Neudi 2020 and filling LP 1.

The second disc contains the original mix from 1986, but remastered by Patrick Engel (Metal Blade, High Roller, etc.). The gatefold double LP contains liner notes and photos as well as an insert with lyrics. The original cover was restored by Kai Brocks.

As with „Flight Of The Griffin“ it is to be expected that the first edition will be sold out quickly and a repressing may take some time.

Title: Satans's SerenadeArtist: QUARTZ

Vinyl

Quartz is not only one of the oldest active metal bands, but also belong to the founding fathers of the NWOBHM. Together with Samson and Marseilles they swept aside the hip punk movement of the late seventies, while being kind of vanguard to Iron Maiden or Saxon, even before the term „New Wave Of British Heavy Metal“ was coined a little later.

In 1977, the debut album „Quartz“, strongly reminiscent of Black Sabbath and later marketed a second time as „Deleted“, was released on Jet Records (Ozzy Osbourne among others). In 1980 they switched to the next industry giant: MCA. In the same year, they released the LP „Stand Up And Fight“. Both albums are popular classics today, but in between these releases there was an exciting period, resulting in two singles and a live LP. And of course Quartz's signature song: „Satan's Serenade“!

In between the impressive major deals, the small label Reddington's Rare Records took care of the band. As the name gives it away, it's actually a record shop, which is directly reminiscent of Metal Blade and Brian Stigel. You can notice the attention to detail: „Satan's Serenade“ was released as a 12" in red vinyl, while „Nantucket Sleighride“ was a 7" single, which was released in five versions (coloured vinyl and red or black cover). This positive madness was topped with a clear 7" flexidisc that was distributed as promocopy. Incidentally, RRR were also responsible for Paralex and Mayday. Golden Core is extremely proud to present both legendary RRR singles now as a 12" EP (playing time: 25:47) in a limited edition of 300 copies. The LP includes a printed inlay and a reprint of the „Nantucket Sleighride“ single (on paper). Liner notes include a recent, exclusive interview with drummer Malcolm Cope! The original singles were overdubbed and audio-cleaned by Patrick Engel, then remastered by Neudi and adapted to the medium vinyl by Vadim Kulin (ZyX Studio). A unique collector's item!

Title: Langsam wea i miad
Artist: STEFANIE WERGER

The title of Stefanie Werger's last album sounds like goodbye. It is a project close to the heart of the almost seventy-year-old artist, with which she gets right to the heart of her most important concerns.

"The earth has a fever" is rightly at the top of the list of her six new songs. In doing so, she underscores the urgency to save our wonderful planet. With "Kamasutra" the Styrian exudes her delicious humor, which one would not want to miss on any of her albums. There is also a wonderful comic video with a chubby concubine.

You are carried by pure goose bumps with Steffi's love song „Kumm zu'ruck“. She sings it so gently and carefully with her beautiful, deep voice, as if she were afraid of disturbing the poetry.

She sings about greed, about women who never found the courage to part with their life tyrants and finally her farewell song with which she wants to end her successful career. Above all, the great singer would like to say goodbye to her loyal audience, from whom she has always been carried lovingly and enthusiastically.

Title: Too Close for ComfortArtist: GEORGE CABLES

George Cables should be declared a National Treasure. As a pianist he is surely second-to-none on today's jazz scene. Listen only to "A Valentine for You" on Cables' current offering to hear what a jaw-dropping beauty of tone he can produce from the pile of wood and metal we call a piano, and how much critical mass is behind every sonorous voicing of his chords. As a musician he possesses endless imagination and creativity, shown by his strikingly new takes on tunes we thought we knew, particularly the title track, "Too Close for Comfort", which retains little trace of its pop song origin. As a composer he has quietly amassed a catalog of works of extremely wide range and extraordinary quality, such as his compositions on this new release, "Circle of Love," "This is My Song," "Klimo" and the aforementioned "A Valentine for You." And finally, the album's cover photo perfectly captures George Cables the man – full of boundless energy, a love of his instrument and the music he makes on it and an impish sense of humor, evidenced by his titling the record Too Close for Comfort during a pandemic where social distancing has become the order of the day. The artist Edward Hopper said, "Great art is the outward expression of an inner life of the artist, and this inner life will result in his personal vision of the world." That would explain why the world according to George Cables is such a wonderful place to be.

Title: It's All Your FaultArtist: MIKE LE DONNE

Mike LeDonne belongs to an elite group of musicians – those who have mastered the piano AND the organ while creating original voices for each. However, here on It's All Your Fault, LeDonne sits down at the organ, puts his foot on the pedals and lays down some of the hippest organ licks you're likely to hear. Two groups are featured on this recording. Mike LeDonne's Groover Quartet has had the rare opportunity to play and record together for twenty years and counting. They had no difficulty integrating their sound into this all-star big band put together by Mike and his preferred arranger and conductor, Dennis Mackrel. Recorded in the famed Van Gelder Studio and actually using the original Hammond C-3 organ that Jimmy Smith et al. used for their recordings, the music within this recording is adventurous. It's a continuation of the groove that was established years ago by organists interacting with big bands and it reveals to us the Blues, the Rhythm & Blues and the Jazz that Mike heard coming up through the jazz ranks.
