Title: Circus Maximus
Artist: MANILLA ROAD

No one outside their hometown of Wichita (Kansas) noticed when the epic metal legend Manilla Road broke up after the release of their album „Courts Of Chaos“ in the early nineties.

Internet for everyone was still a thing of the future and the metal press began to pay more attention to trends like grunge or crossover. Even the French label Black Dragon Records, which had been supplying Europe with the trio's albums since „Open The Gates“, had already been on it's last legs. Mark Shelton looked for two new comrades-in-arms and founded the band Circus Maximus. In this band, each of the three musicians took turns singing. But that was not the only thing that distinguished the project from Manilla Road.

The songs by the two newcomers, Andrew Coss (bass) and Aaron Brown (drums), had their own character, while Mark Shelton's songs fulfilled more what the long-time fans wanted to hear.

Nevertheless, Mark Shelton (who died in 2018) thought this line-up was particularly strong. „I had a hard time keeping up with those two. They kicked my ass pretty well,“ the master admitted many years later. But the new CD, recorded as usual at Miller Studios (Kansas) with Larry Funk (Manilla Road, Stygian Shore, Usher, Rick Ross etc.), was released under the Manilla Road banner, while „Circus Maximus“ became the album title. For many years it was claimed that Black Dragon Records just printed the name on the cover in order to sell more CDs. With the newsletters printed in the booklet, a few weeks before the release, this mystery is also put into perspective. For the fans, however, „Circus Maximus“ has always been a Manilla Road album - just a little different!

A few years ago, Mark Shelton found a VHS tape containing two almost complete shows featuring this rare line-up. Amazingly, the quality is good enough to present this material as a bonus DVD. The location, a small bar in Kansas, doesn't really meet the band's status, but you can experience the furious trio live!

In addition to the tracks from the album, you can look forward to a cover version of „Black Sabbath“ and two Manilla Road songs.

The album itself has been remastered by Neudi in 2021 and comes with several bonus tracks (were not fixed at the time of this writing). The booklet contains liner notes by engineer Steve Falke and many rare illustrations. The unusual „Circus Maximus“ thus joins the ranks of the „Ultimate Editions“ in the legendary Manilla Road catalogue.

Title: And God Gave Us Max
 Artist: MAX & THE BROADWAY METAL CHOIR

In the history of hard rock and heavy metal, a number of curiosities happened, but in 1986 the world was clearly not yet ready for a metal musical. The bizarre mixture of heavy rock/NWOBHM and the Rocky Horror Picture Show is still unique today. No surprise then that „And God Gave Us Max“ has a small but very loyal fan base eagerly awaiting this first CD re-release. The anti-star and main character Max Gelt (played by Jeffrey Michelson) is supported by a whole armada of well-known musicians. This includes Kevin Riddles, of Angel Witch and (still current) Tytan fame, in addition to the almost complete band FM. Other contributors were acts like Samson, Paul Young, Eurythmics, John Cale, Spandau Ballet, Scorched Earth, Grand Prix, Tom Jones or Rhabstallion. The LP was produced by Will Reid Dick, known for his work for Motörhead, Lightning Raiders, Tytan, Thin Lizzy, Pendragon, Viva, Fastway, Thunderhead and Sinner. Similar to the film „Spinal Tap“, the music business and the (wannabe) rock star existence are ironized - sex, drugs, rock'n'roll and Placebo Viagra! The album, partly recorded live in the studio, is characterised by a fresh and at the same time heated atmosphere, which perfectly transports the fun of all participants to the listener.

When the album was first released in 1986, the label Powerstation (Tokyo Blade, Alex Harvey, Chrome Molly) didn't cover itself with glory and let it disappear directly into oblivion. Thus, this extraordinary record had no chance and became an insider tip. So it's good that Golden Core is now honouring Max with a limited CD edition (300 copies).

The material was restored and remastered by Neudi (Manilla Road, Trance) in 2016 and 2021. At the time of this writing, the number of bonus tracks had not yet been determined.

Title: Queen City
Artist: JD ALLEN

“I wish it need not have happened in my time,’ said Frodo. ‘So do I,’ said Gandalf, and so do all who live to see such times. But that is not for them to decide. All we have to decide is what to do with the time that is given us.” —J.R.R. Tolkien

In JD Allen's liner notes for Queen City, it becomes clear that he spent a great deal of time during the pandemic thinking about “what to do with the time that is given us.” In the notes Allen writes, “Performing music for and with people is what I do and I’ve come to the realization that an audience of listeners of any size is a part of the music; it’s also a shared experience. Covid-19 changed that and forced me to try to remember why I started playing in the first place, the years before I started performing and recording.” The tenor saxophonist’s response to his period of introspection is this current recording, a solo saxophone program. It is a recording full of stark, uncompromising power, affording some rare insight into the psyche of the performer. This is not a Coleman Hawkins’ “Picasso”-toned, I-love-my-horn-and-my-horn-loves-me type of symbiosis. There is a real sense of confrontation between Allen and his horn and the audience which makes for a unique listening experience. This is not to imply that Queen City is some severe piece of avant garde abrasiveness. Rather, it encompasses an extraordinarily wide-range of musical languages which communicates an equally broad spectrum of emotions. Melodies of ravishing beauty alternate with angular, aggressive phrases to express frustration, anger, resolve, hope, love and acceptance in what may become one of the most personal and revealing recordings to come out of the trying time of Covid-19.

Title: Going For It
Artist: HARVIE S TRIO

For five years in the mid-1980s, the 1369 Club in Cambridge, MA was a thriving, vibrant and colorful home to a diverse clientele of both jazz “newbies” and the cognoscenti. The roster of performers was equally diverse, made up of top local and national jazz artists as well as a lucky group of amateur musicians who were able to join the “pros” on stage at the frequent open sessions featured by the Club. For three nights in 1985 the awe-inspiring triumvirate of guitarist and Miles Davis alumnus Mike Stern, bassist Harvie S and Boston-based drummer Alan Dawson held court, delivering performances of great intensity, virtuosity and unforgettable excitement. Jazz, by its very nature, is an ephemeral art and once the trio finished their three night run, it was thought the music went up into the ether to remain only as cherished musical memories to those in the audience. However, Harvie S knew that tapes of those evenings were in private hands and together with Barney Fields of Savant Records arranged for a selection from them to see the light of commercial release. So here are these thought-to-be lost performances back from the mists of time, capturing Harvie S, Mike Stern and Alan Dawson at the peak of their abilities. Mike Stern was about to release his first album as a leader, Upside Downside, Alan Dawson was fresh from being the featured drummer on Muse Records’ popular Live at Sandy’s series and Harvie S had already played with greats such as Zoot Sims, Thad Jones, Gil Evans, Urbie Green, Art Farmer, Lee Konitz and Sheila Jordan, and continues to enjoy a long and extremely prolific career. So thanks to Harvie, Savant Records and all those who helped bring this project to fruition the laws of time and space are hereby suspended – if only for the length of this recording. Suddenly, it is 1985 again!

Title: Perish To Exist
Artist: DYING EDEN

Dying Eden was founded in 2012 by Markus Wechselberger (drums), Markus Oberwalder (guitar) and Marcus Erler (guitar) and was originally planned as a studio project. The main focus was on cover songs and music videos, but in 2015 they decided to write their own songs and brought the current vocal man Lord Alfred Wilhelm Fankhauser on board. In 2016 the songwriting for the first album was started, which was released with the help of Tom Buchberger (Ex-Serenity) in April 2017 under the title „Omen“. With Florian Steiner on bass, the quintet became complete in 2018. This was followed by numerous live shows throughout Austria, including at the Gasometer on the occasion of the Planet Festival Tour Finale, at the Innrock Festival in Kramsach, at Komma Wörgl, etc. In 2020, the recordings began for the second studio album „Perish to Exist“ which will be released on August 13. Besides the first German song of the band, a new recording of their song „Empty Soul“, which was on the album „Omen“, has also made it onto the new album.

Title: The Missing Link
Artist: KROHN BAND

The Munich guitarist was no longer satisfied with his role as a guitarist for hire (including Ron Williams, Abi Ofarim, Willy Michl, Richard Rigan), after several years. At the urging of many fans, he founded the Krohn Band in 2010. His idea of bringing different musical styles under one roof was first realized on the 2012 debut album „traveller in between“. A logical development of this concern is the second, now available album „the missing link“. The lyrics of the album contain personal observations as well as conscious criticism of the times, underpinned by the now proven style mix of the Krohn Band, dubbed by themselves as „advanced hippie music“. The sextet is composed of experienced live and studio musicians from the Munich scene. The sworn crew consists of: Otto Staniloi - woodwind instruments / Wood winds, also known by the Spider Murphy Gang Peter Bornkessel -Prof. on all available keys. Alfons Heffer -the Urmünchner on the groove percussion, and the Palermo-born Agostino Cantanzaro on the finely chiseled rhythm machine. With Christoph Faumeier, the rock in the surf of the rhythms on the bass and the namesake and founder of the band Hans-Peter Krohn (guitar, vocals, composition, lyrics) the sextet is completed. The only song not written by Hans-Peter Krohn is a bow to Bob Dylan (Like a rolling stone).

Title: We Were Enough
Artist: NOTES FROM THE LIVING ROOM

Musicians from the heart - that's what guitarist Matze Wurm, who studied in Munich and Los Angeles, and his wife Anna, who studied piano and singing at the Heidelberg University of Education, have been for many years. But it took until 2018, only then the couple decided to make more music together and founded Notes from the living room. After numerous living room concerts, their own songs were written and recorded. The result was the album „We Were Enough“ with nine autobiographical songs. Whether it's about daily life as in „Skyrocket“, to which the daughter gave the trigger with her self-made kindergarten rocket, about mourning as in „Last Breath“, about the experience abroad as in the song „Back To L.A.“ or in „Please Come With Me“ about simple entertainment; the duo coming from the Mannheim/Heidelberg area knows how to capture the appropriate moods with their songs. Whether melancholic, joyful, sad, funny - all songs are characterized by very catchy hooklines. The listeners find themselves in the songs. Stylistically the album ranges from acoustic singer-songwriter to ballads and indie rock numbers.

Title: How deep is your Love
Artist: THE REAL HOLY BOYS

In the course of our many live programs over the past 25 years, we have always intoned one or the other Bee Gees song, such as „Words“ or „Massachusetts“, for you in between. In the last few months we have been musically captivated by them when we happened to catch their huge repertoire. Spontaneously it came to the idea to record a complete album in Holy Boys manner: That means mindful handling of the original with creative additions and edits in the arrangement. On the song „Immortality“, the focus was placed on Pete's brilliant voice and in places enhanced with lead guitar fills à la Gary Moore. On „I got to get a message to you“ the focus was on the pounding acoustic guitar and the „soul“ chorus. On „New York Mining Disaster 1941,“ we made slight changes to the melody of the lead vocals to enhance the exciting harmonies. On the title track „How deep is your love“ we leaned heavily on the original, but even here the sonorous voices are noticeable in the chorus: a unique selling point of the Real Holy Boys.
