Title: The Voices Of Ken Laszlo

Artist: VARIOUS

Ken Laszlo had his first big hit in 1984 with „Hey Hey Guy“. In the context of the Italo Disco wave of the following years even more of his songs hit the European charts. Hits such as „Tonight“ and „Don't Cry“ dating from 1985 and 1986 are among the most popular and well-known titles among Italo disco enthusiasts.

The double CD „The Voices Of Ken Laszlo“ offers a unique compilation of the titles sung by Ken. Partly they were released under the well-known name „Ken Laszlo“, but partly also under other pseudonyms, such as Danny Keith, Fellini, Michael Dream, 50x50 Brothers, Malcolm J. Hill.

An absolute highlight for all Italo Disco fans!

TRACKLIST

Title: Metal Cult Festival

Artist: VARIOUS

Metal Cult Festival

Heavy metal and the venerable hard rock are nowadays essential parts of our musical everyday life and represent two of the most successful music genres, also in terms of physical purchases. For these styles, CDs are still spinning and vinyls are also cherished. We all know mega acts like Metallica and huge events like Wacken that underpin the status of hard rock even without statistics. And while other trends have come and gone, heavy metal was, is and will remain a perennial favorite.

Within the huge crowd of metalheads there are still subtle differences. The traditional metal had its best time in the eighties, because as a successor of the important hard rock pioneers of the 70s, it was virtually invented in this decade.

Whether „just“ heavy metal, or later speed, thrash, doom, hair or prog - all this started in the eighties, based on the style of pioneers like Black Sabbath or Deep Purple.

In the nineties, traditional heavy metal and its associated subgenres began to falter and were pushed into the background by grunge and crossover. Within these genres, however, it continued to exist somewhat hidden.

At the end of the decade, the initially hesitant upheaval began with bands like Hammerfall and, at the latest in the two-thousands, trendless metal found its way back into the well-deserved spotlight. The „old“ fans as well as a whole new generation of interested and curious people formed a very special scene within the scene: The „Metal Underground“, which is actually too big for this term. Also there the heroes are called Iron Maiden or Saxon, but they have to share their throne with acts like Manilla Road or Griffin. Names that others may never have heard of. The festival „Keep It True“ in Germany was dedicated to this scene. Similar events can be found all over Europe (Muskelrock Sweden, Brofest UK, etc.) and sporadically in the USA. A majority of the bands on this sampler (or musicians active in these groups) have played at such „cult festivals“. The compilation mainly includes bands on Golden Core that A&R Neudi (ex-drummer of Manilla Road, currently active with Trance, Roxscalibur and Jameson Raid) has signed or licensed for a reworked re-release since 2019.

He himself is also a part of this scene, so it is not surprising to find many rarities and forgotten groups between names like Manilla Road, Griffin, Cutty Sark or Witchfynde. Thus, this double CD is perfect for explorers, because it is an acoustic shopping list. The booklet introduces and shows all the albums from which the songs are taken. An indeed unusual cover and a damn good CD! Perfectly suited for spontaneous purchase!

Title: Urban Dreams

Artist: KEBU

Kebu is a Finnish keyboardist, composer and producer who creates innovative melodic instrumental music, exclusively with analog synthesizers. His music is characterized not only by the skillful use of these, but also by an audience captivating live performance - a phenomenon, that has already attracted more than 70 million views on his YouTube channel and fans from all over the world. In 2018, Kebu was awarded the best artist at the German Schallwelle Music Awards. The artist's third studio album deals with dreams - both sleeping and daydreams. It was created in a confined space, during a period of seclusion and human isolation. The new album celebrates power ballads as well as soft rock beats from the eighties - essentially the music that surrounded and influenced Kebu in his youth. Yet it doesn't sound nostalgic or silly at all, as Kebu creates the music in a way that feels like the world never moved during that decade. Once again Kebu once shifts the boundaries of what is possible with analog synthesizers. Similar to Kebu's previous releases, „Urban Dreams“ was recorded exclusively with analog synthesizers and analog drum machines. Kebu composed, played and mixed the music all by himself. Currently Kebu is preparing for a streaming concert in September and will hit the European streets again in spring 2022.

Album release date: October 1, 2021 (ZYX Music, Germany).

Title: Deliver Us*Artist: HUNTED

After a lengthy break from release activity, Welsh-borne Progressive Heavy Metal act HUNTED returns stronger than ever with their sophomore full-length effort „Deliver Usa“

Now operating as a quartet consisting of arch-wailer Chris G, axeman Steve Barberini along with the habile rhythm section of bassist Jon Letson and drummer Matt „Animal“ Thomas, the band has spent their time wisely; improving upon their compositional and instrumental skills to offer us this mercurial blend of Heavy Metal past, present and future. Painstakingly refined into maximum alchemical combustion by the expert hand of Sonic One Studios producer Tim Hamill, the new material sees the four-piece up the ante in regard to the successful formula established on their praised debut album „Welcome the Dead“ (2010, Massacre Records), arriving at an updated mode of expression that can only be described as a highly distinctive amalgamation of North American and European Progressive Heavy/Power Metal.

Considering the nature of the eleven incredibly versatile tracks that constitutes „Deliver Us“, HUNTED does not paint themselves into this or that stylistic corner, and will surely appeal to a wider listener base as well. As a sign of their broad musical ground, HUNTED has chosen to include a lush and ample cover of Spanish cult act ANGELES DEL INFIERNO’s „Maldito Sea Tu Nombre“, sung entirely in Spanish, of course. The cover song will be a bonus track on the CD edition of the album.

For fans of: Iron Maiden, Persuader, Helloween, Nevermore

Title: Houston Person Live in ParisArtist: HOUSTON PERSON

Houston Person is the real deal. With a lifetime of experience Houston continues to grace concert stages with his expressive style which stubbornly defies categorization. One moment he is letting loose with some hard-driving swing and the next he is caressing your ears with his mellifluous, baritone utterances on a beautiful ballad. "I just play good music," explains Houston. "I look for a great melody and great lyrics. Houston's preoccupation with the art of melody is on full display in this live recording captured during his appearance at the Festival Jazz à la Villette in 2019. This is Houston's first live recording in some time and it is quite an unforgettable experience, with the legendary man taking great care in putting just the right set list together for his audience, covering a wide variety of styles drawn from his remarkable career. Having recorded his first album as a leader in 1966 titled Underground Soul, coincidentally also an organ-tenor quartet, Houston Person has been a standard-bearer of so-called "soul jazz," but that is a misnomer in Houston's case. The truth is Houston plays soulful jazz rather than "soul jazz"; music that communicates with the listener and touches the heart. How appropriate it is then, that this live recording originates from Paris, also known as the "City of Love."

Title: StringsArtist: JIM SNIDERO

This reissue of Jim Snidero's Strings on Savant Records marks 20 years since the album was to be recorded in New York on 9/11/01, the day of the terrifying attacks on the World Trade Center. Recorded a few months later and released on Milestone, the session ultimately resulted in "a stone masterpiece" (Philadelphia Weekly), "breathtaking achievement" (East Bay Times), 4 stars (Downbeat). Out of print for nearly a decade, Strings has been beautifully remastered and now includes enhanced bass arco parts, adding richness and depth to an all-star string section. Released to wide acclaim, Strings captures some of Snidero's finest writing and playing - not a standards date with a hired gun arranger, but rather a deep dive by Snidero himself into the art of strings arranging, with predominantly his music as the vehicle. In the process, Snidero not only broadened his skill set, but the expressive capacity of his art. Snidero's vibrant compositions, including the three-movement Hudson River homage "River Suite", are brought to life by pianist Renee Rosnes, bassist Paul Gill, drummer Billy Drummond and a supremely qualified cast of string players including Mark Feldman, Laura Seaton, Joyce Hamman, Tomas Ulrich, Mary Wooten, Ralph Farris, Kenji Bunch and others.
