Title: South African Edition

Artist: SMALL KINGDOM

Small Kingdom is an exceptional singer-songwriter experience that focuses on African music without being afraid to combine it with other styles of Western music.

The band was originally formed with the intention of combining classical music with popular music from all over the world.

Finally, the band decided to focus on South African music and started composing for the new album in cooperation with other great artists from Johannesburg and Cape Town.

Impressive South African female vocalists such as Zamajobe Sithole, Melanie Scholtz and Monique Hellenberg will be featured as part of this project.

In the course of the upcoming tour, these singers will perform, one after the other, at different dates, while the well-known singer and guitarist Ron Spielman will play at each of these concerts.

Inspired by the centenary of Nelson Mandela's birth, the band named their new album „South African Edition“. It will be released in April 2022 by ZYX Music.

Title: Urban Dreams

Artist: KEBU

Now finally available on vinyl!

Kebu is a Finnish keyboardist, composer and producer who creates innovative melodic instrumental music exclusively with analog synthesizers. His music is characterized not only by the skillful use of them, but also by a live performance that captivates the audience - a phenomenon, which has already attracted over 70 million views on his YouTube channel and fans from all over the world. In 2018, Kebu received the award for best artist at the German Schallwelle Music Awards. The artist's third studio album is about dreams - both those of sleep and those of the day. It was created in a confined space, during a period of reclusion and human isolation. This new album celebrates the power ballads as well as the soft rock rhythms of the 80s - essentially the music that surrounded and influenced Kebu in his youth. Yet it doesn't sound at all nostalgic or silly, as Kebu creates music in a way that makes the world seem like it never moved during that decade. Once again, Kebu pushes the boundaries of what is possible with analog synthesizers. Like Kebu's previous albums, „Urban Dreams“ was recorded exclusively with analog synthesizers and analog drum machines. Kebu composed, played and mixed the music by himself. Currently, Kebu is preparing for a streaming concert in September and will hit the streets of Europe in the spring of 2022. Album release date: October 1, 2021 (ZYX Music, Germany). Music videos from the new album: - Kebu - Hope: <https://youtu.be/1g515yMhp-o> - Kebu - Fleeting Lights: <https://youtu.be/3znyU04kf2k> You can listen to the new album at this link: - <https://soundcloud.com/kebu/sets/urban-dreams-for-promotional-use-only/s-NaDThzJd0al> For more information, promotion requests, or to schedule an interview, contact KEBU!

Title: Honoring Pat Martino, Volume 1Artist: ALTERNATIVE GUITAR SUMMIT

There are a mere handful of guitarists that have changed the way we think about the guitar over the past five or six decades. Pat Martino is perhaps one of the greatest and best-known of those icons. The term “genius” is overused today, but Pat Martino was definitely one. His life story was the very definition of the word. Before Martino’s passing in November, 2021, the Alternative Guitar Summit honored him and his enormous contribution to jazz in this set of studio recordings by 14 jazz guitarists playing selections from his imaginative and varied catalog of compositions. Producer Joel Harrison is thrilled to have brought together this crew of great musicians to show their love for him while HighNote Records is proud to present this first volume of their recordings.

Title: Soundtrack
Artist: JEREMY PELT

Jazz trumpeter, composer and author Jeremy Pelt has certainly never shied away from themed albums so one might expect something cinematic from the enigmatically-titled Soundtrack. However, as Pelt himself explains, "I've certainly done plenty of concept albums, but in this case there's nothing I'm on a soapbox about. It's been a tough time for all of us, so let's not worry about sending messages for a minute. Here we are, playing some songs and having some fun." Having fun the band may be but along the way they make some compelling jazz weaving a beguiling tapestry of kaleidoscopic colors with Pelt's sultry and communicative trumpet to the fore surrounded by Chien Chien Lu's hypnotic vibraphone and pianist Victor Gould's subtle splashes of the Fender Rhodes. The inclusion of Brittany Anjou on Moog synthesizer and the rarely-heard Mellotron may imply a real electronica aspect present on the recording but, quite to the contrary, Pelt uses them sparingly and incorporates them brilliantly into the group's tonal palette. Their appearance does occasionally bring a certain 70s independent jazz vibe to the proceedings but they far from define the sound of the group. Anne Drummond's silvery flute on two tracks adds yet another dimension to the already wide spectrum of colors on this latest album in the discography of the sometimes surprising but always inspired Jeremy Pelt.

Title: Die Besten Schlager Der 30er JahreArtist: VARIOUS

The best hits of the 30s on one CD!

In those difficult times, music was a welcome diversion from the reality of war.

Not only in Berlin, but all over Germany the great Schlager were played.

„Lili Marleen“, „Ein Freund, ein guter Freund“, „Flieger Größ mir die Sonne“, „Ein Lied geht um die Welt“ are some of the hits that brought distraction and good mood to the people.

At that time, the names of the songs were often better known than the artists to whom they were owed. But some still made it to fame.

Comedian Harmonists, Willy Fritsch, Heinz Rühmann, Zarah Leander, Hans Albers are among the great German-speaking stars of the 30s, all of whom can be found on this CD.

A must-have for fans of the 30s!

Title: Greatest HitsArtist: GENE AUTRY

Gene Autry, or the Singing Cowboy, was a country singer in the 1930s who had his musical breakthrough with „That Silver Haired Daddy of Mine.“

With over 500,000 copies sold in one year, he became a celebrity in the United States. His record company made a gold bronze covered record to make the success visible. Thus was born the first unofficial „Golden Record“. He owed his name as the Singing Cowboy to many Hollywood westerns in which he successfully starred. Unforgotten hits like „Back in the saddle again“, „Don't fence me in“, „In the jailhouse now“, „Texas plains“, „South of the border“, „Yodelling hobo“ and „You are my sunshine“ made him become one of the most successful country singers of all time.

Still today, Gene Autry is the only artist with 5 stars on the Hollywood Hall of Fame in the categories, film, TV, theater, music and radio.
