

Title: ZYX Italo Disco History: 1985

Artist: VARIOUS

On 26.08.2022 the time has come again - another volume of the Italo Disco compilation series will be launched: „ZYX Italo Disco History 1985“. As with the previous episodes, the track list was selected in collaboration with living Italo Disco legend Flemming Dalum.

Also in 1985, the genre of Italo Disco was an integral part of the European charts as hits such as „Around My Dream“ - Silver Pozzoli, „Cenerentola“ - Martinelli, „It's So Easy“ - Valerie Dore or „Tonight“ - Ken Laszlo and more conquered them. You can also look forward to a mega mix and liner notes by Flemming Dalum as an exclusive bonus!

Title: Back To The Music (1977)

Artist: MASS

The history of Mass goes back to 1973, when Günther V. Radny (the V. stands for Viktor) started the formation Black Mass with singer Josef Hartl, guitarist Walter Speck and Swiss drummer Charles Frey (now known as Akron). After Speck dropped out due to psychological problems with fatal consequences, he was replaced by Saarbrücken guitarist Gerd Schneider, who had previously played with Scorpions drummer Hermann Erbel aka Herman Rarebell in RS Rindfleisch. Schneider, however, had to leave after a year because of massive drug problems and was replaced by the English guitarist Mick Thackeray (The Merseys), who played in Switzerland with the Slaves and Countdowns, and in Munich with Abi Ofarim. At the same time Johannes Eder, coming from the English band I Drive, replaced drummer Frey, who according to Radny had „gone on a book tour“. In addition, the band name was shortened to Mass. In this line-up, MASS recorded an album in April 1975 at Studio 70 in Munich with Dave Siddle at the mixing desk, who had worked with the Beatles, Jimy Hendrix, Jeff Beck, Animals and Deep Purple, among others. Due to singer Josef Hartl's drug problems, this album was never released. Unfortunately, these tapes have been lost to this day. But that was not enough of the troubled times: One year later Hartl (drug problems, died 1998) and Thackeray (excessive alcohol consumption), had to leave. With Detlef „Dave“ Schreiber, who had come from Berlin, as the new guitarist, the formation was stabilised as a trio for the first time in 1976. In 1977, the album „Back To The Music“ was released by United Artists Records (Hawkwind, ELO, Don McLean).

As a result, Mass became known as a partly boogie-oriented hard rock group, then as a heavy metal band, and today enjoy pioneer status similar to Accept, Scorpions, Trance or Fargo. After temporarily changing their name to Monsters, band boss Günther V Radny recently returned with Mass and delivered an acclaimed reunion CD. The band was also recently honoured by Golden Core/ZYX, as one track each from Mass and Monsters can be found on the compilation „Sound & Action-German Hardrock & Heavy Metal Rarities Vol. 1“. In the course of this contact, the long overdue idea came up to offer Mass' debut album for the first time on CD (and again on vinyl)

Title: On Tour
 Artist: LIMERICK

Limerick
On Tour - 40th Anniversary Edition

Facts:

- First re-release of this forgotten hard rock and German rock gem from 1982.
- including the rare 7" single from 1980
- recorded at Olympia Studio, Munich (Amon Düül II, Oktagon, Zoff)

Krautrock and heavy metal collectors have known it for a long time: many hidden treasures can be found in the regional scenes of the seventies and eighties. For example, most rare singles and albums of the NWOBHM (New Wave Of British Heavy Metal, 1978-1984) are from local acts in order to sell something at gigs and in the local record shop. You can also find them in Germany. As always, Golden Core dug deep and came across Limerick from Pirmasens.

Limerick were founded in 1978 and went through several line-up changes until the recording of their first single „Hard Work“ / „Alaska Nights“ in 1980. This rarity, which can be found here as a bonus track, already shows with the rocking A-side that the young gentlemen were definitely turned towards hard rock, while the backside reminds of some of the glam heroes of that time. A thoroughly successful and especially today very exciting calling card!

The Saarländische Rundfunk became aware of Limerick and so in 1981 they played at the SR1 school festival (with Thomas Orner among others) at the Johanner Markt and were supported by cult presenter Manfred Sexauer. In 1982, they were already sharing the stage in Saarbrücken with greats like Kim Wilde, which brought the SWR programme „Glaskasten“ on the scene, where they appeared several times in succession. Supra-regional success was already beckoning, a fact that did not go unnoticed by Ralf Siegel, who got involved in the production of an LP. The LP „On Tour“ was recorded in the Olympia Studios in Munich and contains 12 German-language original compositions.

The partly quite hard and rough material was presented in 1982/1983 as special guest of the Climax Blues Band and the teenie stars Speedy (CD/LP re-release on Golden Core), among others. Four-digit attendance figures were no longer a rarity at Limerick. They were also allowed to perform at the famous Quartier Latin in Berlin. In 1984, the band disbanded without officially breaking up. Both guitarists changed to the metal band Steel. Since 2013, Limerick are active again in the LP line-up and have released, again regionally, a new single.

„On Tour“ is a forgotten pearl of German hard rock, partly with a 70s beat.

Comparisons with some rarities of the NWOBHM cannot be denied, even if Limerick leave the heavy path here and there and then offer perfect German rock. The LP and the single were overdubbed by Patrick Engel (Metal Blade, High Roller Records etc.) and restored and remastered by Neudi.

Title: Enter My ReligionArtist: LIV KRISTINE

Norwegian magic with style and enchanting voice!

In 2021 LIV KRISTINE's EP „Have Courage Dear Heart“ was released and now the re-release „Enter My Religion“. The album will be released for the first time as a vinyl with an extra single, as a cassette with two bonus tracks and as a double CD with unreleased tracks and demo recordings. The songs were also adorned with universal influences. Sitar sounds introduce the title track, which comfortably gets under your skin with its insinuating melody arcs and LIV KRISTINE's delicate voice. The opener „Over the Moon“ (PETER TÄGTGREN) hints at powerful metal, but then develops into a driving pop song. „Fake a Smile“ is an airy ballad, with LIV KRISTINE's voice charmingly taking center stage and setting the tone for most of the songs on the album. The title track „Enter my Religion“ is a mid-tempo anthem with a wise appeal to your inner self, your self-esteem, happiness and creativity. The pace continues with „All the Time in the World“. Straighter and more guitar-driven is „My Revelation“. Pleasing harmonies are in the foreground in the warm and soothing composition „Coming Home“. „Streets of Philadelphia“ - BRUCE SPRINGSTEEN's theme song to the Oscar-winning movie was interpreted as a tribute. The arrangements being technically based on the original, LIV KRISTINE adds new and softer accents to the track. „You Take Me Higher“ is extraordinarily different and more dance-oriented, with a subtle drum'n'bass overlay. With „Trapped in Your Labyrinth“ and „Fake a Smile“ LIV KRISTINE spoils her listeners with profoundly sensual ballads and rock songs. The fairy-like singing, accentuated by piano sounds, envelops music lovers in a web of security, melancholy and longing.

„Enter My Religion“ convinces as a spicy and varied album. The blond Norwegian succeeds in creating a fine album with romantic touches, which never slips into kitsch. Simply authentic, profoundly philosophical, surprising and absolutely LIV KRISTINE - luminous and enlightening.

Title: Versus Recentem Mundum
Artist: COLD EMBRACE

The name COLD EMBRACE has stood for heavy, epic Doom Metal for over 24 years now. Lyrically, a lot revolves around nature-loving paganism. But there are also everyday experiences about people on the lyrical menu. The band was founded by Andreas Libera (bass, vocals). The first permanent line-up came about in 1998 during the recording of the third demo through a collaboration with Michael Hahn (INCUBATOR, ex-RHYTHM JUNKIES (guitar, vocals)), who was in charge of the recording as a producer, moreover, who recorded some lead and melodic guitars. The result of the collaboration was the debut „Ode to Sorrow“ from 1999, which triggered positive reactions from the press (Orkus, Metal Hammer etc.). After the release, COLD EMBRACE got the opportunity to accompany New Orleans sludge doom legends CROWBAR on their German tour dates. In 2001, the second album, Age of Doom, a thoroughbred epic Viking Doom record, was produced. They were not idle at all and already in August 2003 they recorded the compositions for the EP „Buran“.

Some of these were songs that were not included on the two albums. Since no label could be found, the hitherto successful band and project slowly but surely fizzled out. At some point the involved partners sat together and listened to the „Buran-EP“ after a long break. It was concluded that a few new songs and a qualitatively adjusted remaster would be a good start. So „Buran“ was remixed, mastered and new songs were added. The result will be released in 2022 by the authentic label ALLEGRO TALENT MEDIA under the album title „Versus Recentem Mundum“. At the same time, it should serve as a prelude to the fourth full-length album, which is scheduled for release in 2023.

Title: Freibad. Ein ganzer Sommer unter dem Himmel
 Artist: Will Gmehling gelesen von Max Ruhbaum

„I thought about Dad and Mom. They got along most of the time. They were all right. If your parents are all right, you're all right.“

Because the Bukowski siblings saved a toddler from drowning in the indoor pool, they are famous for a few days. But more awesome than the fame is the ticket to the open-air swimming pool they get for their heroic deed. Free entry to a long summer that will be special for all of them! Alf is ten years old, his thoughts turn to the change of school after the holidays, the beautiful daughter of the lifeguard and his self-imposed goal: the jump from the ten-metre tower. His 8-year-old sister Katinka, snotty and fearless, has a crush on Paris, learns French on the lawn and trains for 20 lengths of crawl at a stretch. Robbie, the youngest and star of the family, is different from other children, he hardly talks and dreams a lot. Alf and Katinka think he should finally learn to swim properly. Will Gmehling tells with humour and a lot of feeling how the summer in the swimming pool makes the Bukowski children grow, how they - not only in the pool - boldly reach their limits and foolhardily go beyond them. And always wafting through his story is that delightful scent of water on hot stones, chlorine and chips with mayo ...

Freibad“ is followed by „Das Elser-Eck“ and „Nächste Runde“, which will also be published by derDiwan Hörbuchverlag in June/July, all of which can be listened to independently. Children from 10 years
