Title: The Art Of Navigating By The StarsArtist: SIEGES EVEN

Sieges Even's career has not been quiet. After the first two albums, the band had its first change of singer. On the albums „Sophisticated“ (1995) and „Uneven“ (1997), the Holzwarth brothers (bass and drums) kept the band going. But they ended up with the guitarist Markus Steffen and recruited the outstanding singer Arno Menses, who was previously active as a drummer. With this line up, the band has won the hearts of prog fans, but also of demanding metalheads. Once again, Sieges Even was in the right place at the right time.

„The Art Of Navigating By The Stars“ was recorded in the Black Solaris studio by Uwe Lulis (also known today as Accept's guitarist) and released by InsideOut Music, then distributed by SPV. This was followed by dream reviews, also for the tour that followed.

Of course, there was no question of releasing a vinyl in 2005, so this reissue is already expected by many fans. But the CD has also been „out of print“ for a few years, so it was also necessary to act in this context. The graphics of the double LP in gatefold were made by the original artist Thomas Ewerhard and the audio material was remastered separately for the vinyl and the CD.

The concept of „The Art Of Navigating By The Stars“ is still exciting today, as is the music, which is both complicated and hard, but also full of emotion. In this sense, Sieges Even were simply the great German masters.

Title: Überwachung und Kontrolle

Artist: KLO TV

Das digitale Zeitalter schreitet voran und automatisiert die autoritäre Herrschaft.

Doch Klo TV widerspricht, dass es nur so kracht. Auf dem Debüt-Album Überwachung und Kontrolle „verhören“ sie ihre Fans mit schnellen Beats und schrillen Gitarren.

Klo TV ist auf unheimliche Weise perfekt. Millionen Viewer stehen auf ihre Videos.

Dystopischer Überwachungshorror kann also doch geil sein.

Du liebst die Future Sounds aus „Techno Evolution“, die Punk-Attitude in „Digital Kafka“ oder stehst auf Retro-Manier in „Es ist der Hass“? Dann Gnade deinem Social Scoring. . .

Die CD enthält eine RFID-Schutzhülle, damit Karten-Chips von Unbefugten nicht ausgelesen werden können. Der rote Anti-Skim-Schutz trägt den Aufdruck „Mit Klo TV gegen Datenklau“.

- Überwachung und Kontrolle
- Techno-Evolution
