Title: Here Waits Thy Doom
Artist: 3 INCHES OF BLOOD

3 Inches Of Blood from Canada started already in 1999 and could present their debut in 2002, still on a small label. This led to a deal with Roadrunner Records, for whom they recorded two albums, followed by a collaboration with the equally renowned label Century Media, where the sensational „Here Waits Thy Doom“ was released in 2009.

The album not only entered the U.S. charts, but even featured a real smash hit with „Preacher’s Daughter.“ The deliberately slightly pixelated cover artwork still seems a bit bizarre today and might lead you on a wrong track - just like the name of the band, which could also be associated with a much more modern style. One could also call the choice of producer unusual, because Jack Endino was the figurehead of the grunge scene in and around Seattle in the nineties. But do not worry, because the tight, punchy sound screams only two words: Heavy Metal!

In 2009, the medium vinyl was more a case for the collectors and so the entire playing time of the album was pressed on a simple LP, which was anything but optimal in terms of sound. Now Golden Core could finally solve this problem!

„Here Waits Thy Doom“ is not only released as a double LP in gatefold, but also features two bonus tracks. The audio material was produced especially for the medium vinyl and goes sonically more in depth than the CD.

Title: The Good Life
Artist: GEORGE FREEMAN

George Freeman has been part of jazz for nearly a century. Brother of Von and uncle of Chico Freeman, he's worked with the greats, such as Charlie Parker and Ben Webster. Appearing on the recording is legendary organist Joey DeFrancesco, going into the studio just a couple of months before his untimely death. DeFrancesco admired Freeman's work on a Jimmy McGriff LP so it is quite touching that the two were able to collaborate here. Also featured on 4 tracks is bass phenom Christian McBride stoking up some swinging performances with Freeman. Drummers Lewis Nash and Carl Allen provide propulsive rhythms throughout. It must be said, however, that the pulsing heart of the band is Freeman himself, who plays with integrity and enthusiasm and who continues to bring an impressive lifetime of experience to his work. The set list includes a standard, some hand-jive groove, a high-powered up-tempo blues with Freeman articulating some wonderful bebop phrasing, and a breathtakingly beautiful rendition of "The Good Life".
