Title: German Rock Vol. 1 - Krautrock And BeyondArtist: VARIOUS

Not only in the current hard rock/metal scene more and more young bands, among them also many German acts (as an example Wucan may be mentioned), refer to the nowadays much more appreciated years of Krautrock. Of course, the term is not directly a style, because from hard rock to jazz / fusion was once almost assigned to this style. Besides electronic pioneers like Can, Tangerine Dream or Kraftwerk, there were also the groups that can be categorized as rock: Jane, Birth Control or Lucifer's Friend are just three examples. On „German Rock“ you can indeed also find one of the early bands: Floh De Cologne, who already offered rock with German language at the beginning of the seventies. The hard rockers Mass from Regensburg delivered their debut album, which is also honored on „German Rock“, in 1977.

The rest of the unusual compilation, which is only available on vinyl, deals with late groups that still delivered a sound in the early eighties that could well have originated a few years earlier. And indeed, at least two songs were written in the late seventies, but the record deal or the capital for a self-pressing came „too late“. Many of these exciting bands like Iris, Cannock or Sphinx were no longer in line with the zeitgeist when they appeared, so they had few or only local chances. Today, dedicated fans and the curious are looking for just such unknown acts that bring a bygone era back to life. Handmade music, and not only live, but also in the recording studio. The stuff of the early eighties groups on this compilation may remind some of the regional heroes, as you could still experience them in the eighties in local gyms... Nostalgia is not the main concern of this LP, but the preservation of valuable music, which was not released by the big major labels at that time.

Title: SOULFUL CHRISTMAS (with a Funky Twist)
Artist: RAPHAEL WRESSNIG & ALEX SCHULTZ

Soul and Christmas belong together like gingerbread and sugar glaze. Raphael Wressnig releases a Christmas album like this. In the boogaloo version of „Santa Claus is Coming to Town“, Wressnig takes a jaunty ride along the Jimmy Smith highway, and the traditional Christmas carol „Leise rieselt der Schnee“ (The snow is falling softly) hits the turntable as a soul ballad via Muscle Shoals in Alabama! Because the quintessence of funk resides in New Orleans, the Christ Child sends the „Little Drummer Boy“ to a „Crawfish Fiesta“ with Professor Longhair and Eddie Bo.

Christmas is much more fun with groove and New Orleans funk: Raphael Wressnig on the Christmas organ and the superb ensemble show how much soul and groove can be found in Christmas music!

Title: Bucket List
 Artist: PLEXIPHONES

For the many things you still absolutely want to do in life, „Bucket List“ is the perfect soundtrack and bipolar blueprint at the same time. The new studio album of the PLEXIPHONES has everything that makes a perfect alternative pop record: foresight and depth as well as love and suffering. Incredibly good songs and topics that get under your skin or hit you in the head. From a vote for active euthanasia to love songs and lullabies that almost sound sarcastic, a commitment to trend sports or an addiction alert on excessive virtual reality consumption to a homage to the queer movement - „Bucket List“ has everything that moves us. Listening is more important than vowing!

Title: The Living Room Concert
 Artist: PIANOREED - A CLASSIC FRIENDSHIP

Classical music and jazz enter into a dialogue
 A musical friendship breaks boundaries - this is how one could describe the extraordinary collaboration between pianist, multi-instrumentalist and composer Charles Herrig and oboist, author, cultural award winner of the city of Aachen and ,oboe doctor' Marc Schaeferdiek.

The two musicians come from very different worlds: Herrig lives jazz, free improvisation, and with his „virtuotic piano playing“ (RZ Online), seeks to create music from the moment in ever new ways.

Schaeferdiek inspires as a studied oboist and professor for oboe playing not only in artistic expression, but also with technical finesse and sound perfection; among others, for the „WDR Rundfunksinfonieorchester Köln“ and songwriter Reinhard Mey.

The personal and musical friendship resulted in the project: Pianoreed - a classic friendship.

The press reviews: „When Marc Schaeferdiek and Charles Herrig enter into musical dialogue, it is surprising and stirring at the same time.“ (RZ Online)

After their debut at the renowned Konz Musik Festival and further, successful concerts, the duo Pianoreed now releases their first recording: „THE LIVING ROOM CONCERT“. Recorded live at both musicians' favorite concert hall, a personal place full of sonic warmth and with the authentic, lively atmosphere of a private living room.

Title: Ecstasy
 Artist: DEATH WARRANT

Not only the NWOBHM or the US metal have spawned genuine and wallet-nibbling rarities, but also German acts that tried their luck in the first half of the eighties not by means of demo cassette(s), but with a self-produced record. The EP of DEATH WARRANT, which is gladly titled „Ecstasy“, is one of the rarest and most exciting rarities that German heavy metal has produced.

The core of the band from Baden-Württemberg was formed already in the seventies and after some line-up changes they finally called themselves Death Warrant. The first demo recordings were made in 1980/1981 and could be saved and reworked for these re-releases. The proof that Death Warrant was one of the very early bands in German Metal is irrefutable. The landlord of the local pub then financed the highly motivated band the vinyl EP, famous in collector circles, which was recorded in the studio of Antoni Records. The logo of this company can also be seen on the record, but it is still a self-pressing. Four songs were recorded (still 1984), which capture the zeitgeist of the early years of German Metal. That the musicians already had experience can be heard in the tracks, because despite the rough shell it is not „rumble“. Unfortunately, some members did not want to take the next step and the band broke up.

An unplayed EP was overdubbed and cleaned by Patrick Engel, then the material, including the early demo recordings, was restored and remastered by Neudi. The booklet or LP inlay contains an extensive interview with singer Wolfgang Marquart, who is now a piano teacher.

With this re-release, this piece of German metal history can now also wander into the living rooms at home without a small loan.

Title: New York
 Artist: MCL

The song „New York“ by MCL, released in 1987, is an outstanding example reflecting the style and influence of the electronic music scene at that time.

MCL, an acronym for „Micro Chip League“, was a Belgian band that specialized in electronic music.

„New York“ is a characteristic track from the heyday of the EBM (Electronic Body Music) and New Beat movements.

Title: Aus Meinem Leben
 Artist: GIACOMO CASANOVA

Audio book in German language!

“To my mistress I would not recommend Casavona’s biography, but to all my friends.”
 (Heinrich Heine)

His name became synonymous for seduction, conquest and lived passion, although his twelve-volume memoirs reveal many other facets of his life. For example, Casanova earned a doctorate in law at the age of sixteen, was a musician, later a secret agent for the Inquisition, headed the French National Lottery, made a sensational escape from the lead chambers of Venice - he was also a priest.

The encounter and love story with the nun M.N., heard here, stands out particularly from Casanova’s memoirs - hardly have the customs and morals of the 18th century been portrayed more transparently and tangibly.

Title: KHussologieArtist: KATRIN HUSS

Katrin Huß moved thousands of people when she simply quit at the height of her television career. At the heart of the media world since 1992, she was one of the audience favorites on MDR (Mitteldeutscher Rundfunk, a regional station in Germany) television. For more than twenty years, she worked in radio and television, including for the afternoon magazine „MDR um 4“. She interviewed around 2,000 guests from all walks of life, traveled the world as a reporter, filmed reports about her first marathon in New York, her ascent of Mount Kilimanjaro in Africa and about her Himalayan adventure, the path to Mount Everest in Nepal. Grateful for all the challenges she was able to overcome in the mainstream, she is now blazing new trails. She writes books, gives lectures, hosts talk shows, teaches seminars in yoga and ethnobotany, and studies naturopathy and psychotherapy at the German School of Naturopathy. She discovered her passion for music on the Way of St. James. She walked about 2000 kilometers alone through Portugal and Spain to Santiago de Compostela, then on to Finisterra, the end of the world. Whenever she had to go beyond her limits because her feet hurt, the heat became unbearable or she ran into a storm, she sang her favorite songs. Often, she also sang together with other pilgrims from all over the world in a variety of languages. She realized that music can connect people, dispel fears and widen hearts. Back in Germany she started to work with the musician and producer Ralph Valenteano. The result are very lively, personal songs that accompany her in every situation in life and now want to go out to her many fans.
