Title: The Glorious SevenArtist: HARALD FRANKLIN

Former military commander David Guerra (Jerry Kwarteng) is hired by dodgy millionaire Anthony Levin (Fernando Carrera) to rescue his wife Valentina, who has been kidnapped by Javier Martinez, the leader of a guerrilla group. Guerra, who knows Martinez from previous military encounters, recruits six men from his former special unit to help him achieve the seemingly impossible: seven against 700 guerrillas who are well entrenched in their headquarters. Driven only by their courage and unbridled will, the seven embark on the hopeless and bloody mission, during which they ultimately discover the true reasons for their mission...

The Glorious Seven Reloaded is an entertaining actioner that could have come straight from the Cannon forge of the 80s.

Title: The Trees Have Eyes
Artist: TONY QUILL

Fast-paced & bloody independent horror film shot against an impressive natural backdrop in the forests of New England. Heavily armed bounty hunters against zombies.

UNCUT, of course!

Leading actor Tony Moran became famous under the mask of the adult Michael Myers in John Carpenter's cult hit 'HALLOWEEN'!

In pursuit of a violent fugitive, a group of heavily armed bounty hunters led by Bosk (Tony Moran) and Henry (Timothy Patrick Quill) head into the vast New England woods. As they follow the killer's trail, the group encounters hikers and other campers who report strange happenings in the woods. At first they pay no heed to the warnings of the living dead and walking corpses, but on the very first night they are suddenly attacked. With no shelter and no outside help, the fight for survival against the bloodthirsty zombies seems hopeless...
