Title: Mystery
 Artist: MYSTERY

In 1988, an album dropped that was way ahead of its time—a progressive-thrash-crossover experiment that left metalheads scratching their heads. Some loved it, some didn't get it, but Mystery refused to be ignored. While German metal critics weren't sold, Kerrang! called it: „The most fascinating progressive-thrash crossover I've heard in ages.“ With its futuristic artwork and mind-bending compositions, this LP still raises eyebrows today. The bizarre mix of influences had people wondering: Are these even metal musicians? Years of research later, the answer is finally in... and let's just say, this album was no accident. For those who truly get it, Mystery is a once-in-a-lifetime trip. And now, it's back—remastered and reissued in an exclusive LP + CD package. Are you ready to unravel the mystery?

Title: Rhythm, Melody and HarmonyArtist: CYRUS CHESTNUT

Jazz pianist par excellence, Cyrus Chestnut, returns to the HighNote catalog with a superb new piano quartet recording. This highly anticipated album showcases Chestnut's rhythmic precision, emotive touch, and improvisational flair complemented by an ensemble that provides both subtlety and drive. The combination of Chestnut's expressive piano playing with the string bass of Gerald Cannon and the propulsive beats of Chris Beck creates a sound that provides a luxurious background of vibrant color for the saxophone of Stacy Dillard. Chestnut's previous recordings on HighNote Records, including Kaleidoscope, and My Father's Hands, were met with widespread critical acclaim. JazzTimes lauded his „virtuosic piano playing,“ while Down Beat declared him „one of the finest jazz pianists of his generation.“ This new recording is sure to add to that legacy, as Chestnut and his colleagues offer an imaginative set list comprised mostly of the leader's original works, spotlighting his distinctive compositional voice. It is required listening for anyone who appreciates the extraordinarily communicative depth of jazz piano ensembles.
