Title: 8:15 To Nowhere / Did You Hear Me
 Artist: TALLA 2XLC & YORK

This colourful maxi vinyl brings two legendary Trance and Italo-Disco classics back to the dancefloor with fresh energy.

Side A: Talla 2XLC & York – 8:15 To Nowhere (Extended Mix)

Talla 2XLC and York deliver a revitalised take on “8:15 To Nowhere”, originally a track by Vicious Pink and successfully reinterpreted in 1998 under Talla 2XLC’s T2 alias. The 138 BPM version ignites pure euphoria with its spacey synth hooks, driving kicks, powerful basslines and distinctive drums. The main breakdown impresses with distorted synth melodies and atmospheric, spacious effects, while the signature Italo-Disco melody bathes the dancefloor in a heavenly groove. An eight-minute track that blends classic trance elements with modern production, offering sheer energy for DJs and clubgoers alike.

Side B: Talla 2XLC, Torsten Stenzel & Red Light District – Did You Hear Me

On Side B, the trio deliver a powerful rework of the trance classic “Did You Hear Me” by Red Light District (DJ Taucher & Torsten Stenzel), first released in 1998. With a blend of subtly psy-trance-inspired basslines, punchy drums and a driving kick, they create maximum impact on club and festival sound systems. The signature preacher vocal leads into a breakdown filled with airy harps, church-organ melodies and striking synth plucks, before tension and euphoria rise towards a massive peak. The result is an energetic, uplifting experience that electrifies dancefloors and festivals alike.

This maxi vinyl is an absolute highlight for trance fans, Italo-disco lovers and DJs looking for fresh, powerful remakes of classic tracks.

Title: 80s German Metal Box Vol. 2Artist: VARIOUS*MORBID JESTER – “Until The Battle Is Won”

This gem of German metal artistry first appeared on CD in 1994, produced by S.L. Coe at Dust Studios. Coe will be familiar to devoted metal fans as the vocalist on ANGEL DUST's second LP, as well as his work with SCANNER. Around 2,000 CDs of this self-produced release (!) were sold, including many copies in Greece and, notably, Japan, where the band became something of an underground sensation. The cover artwork was created by none other than Ken Kelly (Manowar, Kiss). Appearances alongside bands like SAXON were a natural consequence.

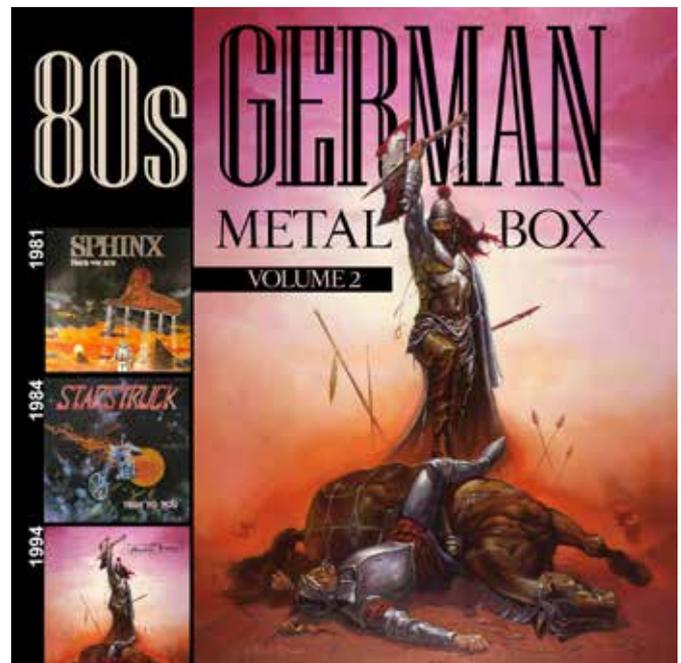

On “Until The Battle Is Won”, MORBID JESTER blend elements of German metal with a US-metal precision, creating a unique hybrid. The transparent yet powerful production, with a natural drum sound that's often missing today, allows the material to shine. The careful remastering for this reissue further enhances all these qualities.

The band's fusion of progressive rock and heavy metal was cultivated by groups like Dream Theater, but certainly not invented by them. In their consistency and execution, SPHINX in 1981 were several years ahead of their time.

Formed in 1977 in the Stuttgart area, the band mostly consisted of sons of Italian guest workers, giving the group an international flair. “Rock Made In Italy,” as seen on the original „Here We Are“ sleeve, was more of a promotional gag—or only half the truth. Particularly notable is guitarist Thomas Metzger, who is in fact Tommy Newton, later known for his work with Victory and as a producer.

Here We Are was first released in 1981 on Peak, a label under the then-new GAMA company, which was not yet able to fully promote such a top-tier product. The LP was reissued in 1985 as Burning Lights. Both Mausoleum and Camel (also GAMA labels) attempted to give the album a second chance with typical heavy metal cover artwork and a reordered tracklist.

In 1984, STARSTRUCK from Karlsruhe released their sole statement: the LP „Thru' To You. Recorded at Spygel Studio with engineer Batze Kramer, who also polished iconic releases from Tyrant, Stormwitch, Bloody Six, Vampyr, Gravestone, Restless, and Necronomicon, the album is pure zeitgeist. Its cover, upon closer inspection, reveals a good dose of humour.

Title: Weck mich auf
Artist: MELOCO

The Nuremberg alternative rock band Meloco turn it up a notch in October 2025 with their album "Weck mich auf". Anyone who believes that German-language rock can't be profound, emotional and captivating at the same time will be proved wrong.

The clearest proof: their new single "Barfuss im Regen" – a track that hits the heart, stays in the mind, and makes every stage tremble. Here, earworm hooks meet goosebump-inducing moments – pure rock, raw and authentic.

With "Weck mich auf", Meloco embark on a new era – uncompromising, more intense, and more passionate than ever. This album brings together everything that defines the band: heartfelt German lyrics, driving riffs, compelling melodies, and a force that goes straight under the skin.

Title: Aqua Fitness
Artist: SPECIAL INTEREST

While water aerobics was, until a few years ago, primarily a gentle exercise for older generations, it has undergone a significant image transformation thanks to its use in competitive sports. The combination of joint-friendly movement, aided by water buoyancy, and the ability to individually control the exertion against water resistance has led to a steadily growing following across all ages and fitness levels. Particularly popular with younger participants is the circulation-boosting variant of aquarobics also featured here.

This DVD thoroughly demonstrates the key foundational exercises for a full-body workout and combines them with more advanced movements. Then it's time, in the guided workout, to have fun while putting your whole body into action!
