Title: Heavy Rock BoxArtist: VARIOUS*HEAVY ROCK BOX

Back in the late eighties, members of Ampyre were already active in bands such as Tindale Creek, Silk'n'Steel and Dark Haze, which had released several albums. With singer Elke Grötzinger, who still rocks the stage successfully with FRONTROW WARRIOR today, they had made a perfect catch. This gave them a good start and full houses in the Stuttgart area, despite strong competition. They dug deep into their pockets for the 5-track demo produced at Marquee Studio, which led to a correspondingly professional-sounding result. Their musical talent and songwriting, which was perfect for this style, should have made them a big hit, but in 1991 the musical landscape changed and melodic metal had to compete with grunge, crossover, thrash and death metal. The Golden Core label made these recordings available for the first time, and the reviews in magazines such as Rock Hard and Break Out were fantastic. Sacrifice came from Switzerland, introducing themselves in 1984 with a self-produced single and then landing a deal with GAMA Musikverlag. 'On The Altar Of Rock' was released in 1985 on the GAMA label Camel and established the band in the heavy rock scene of the time. The mixture of melodic hard rock and heavy metal is what makes this album so appealing. Skilful songwriting with lots of hooklines is paired with technical prowess. The reissue on Golden Core includes the two rare tracks from the 12" single as a bonus and has been remastered. At the end of the 1970s, The Teens were on a winning streak and dominated youth magazines such as Bravo. Of course, it wasn't long before they had competition. Speedy were a genuine band who were discovered while playing music in their rehearsal room. Shortly afterwards, their first single, 'Willy Is Back', was produced by Didi Zill (Birth Control, The Nighthawks), who was also known as a photographer for Bravo. They made it straight onto the cult TV show Ilya Richer's Disco. This led to their first and, unfortunately, only LP, 'Much Too Young To Rock'n'Roll', and the single of the same name with the hit 'Fight Like A Fighter' on the B-side. Both tracks made it onto TV again (a holiday show with Karl Dall and, for the second time, the programme Disco) – Speedy was all the rage! Unfortunately, the parents of the underage musicians decided against a tour with Def Leppard, which ended their career. The reissue also includes the songs that were only available as singles.

Title: Miracle TodayArtist: INTO THIS

It's not easy to pigeonhole Into This into a specific genre. Since forming in 2015, the three Cologne-based musicians have been doing one thing above all else: making the music they want to make. This is evident on their debut album MONSTER WE CREATED, released in 2017, a catchy mix of pop and punk rock that aims to do one thing above all else, both on record and live: entertain the listener. With profound yet catchy lyrics and melodies that stick in your head.

This will not change with the release of their second album, MIRACLE TODAY. With influences ranging from 80s rock to new wave and a fresh, modern sound, the band is back and, despite all the changes, remains true to itself: Into This Shortly after the release of their debut album MONSTER WE CREATED in 2017, the first demos for a potential second album were created. Influenced by a changing world, personal changes and ever-new musical influences, the album MIRACLE TODAY developed over the next five years.

The band's evolution is not only characterised by a new political tone in the unmistakably introspective lyrics, but also by a new sound: driving synthesizers form the basis on which Into This Genres combines everything from new wave to pop rock into a coherent whole. With its varied songs, catchy melodies and meaningful lyrics, MIRACLE TODAY will stay in the listener's ears for a long time to come.

Title: The Sinatra ProjectArtist: TOM O'HARA

On 12 December 2025, 'The Sinatra Project' will be released, the debut album by Tom O'Hara, the man who does not imitate Frank Sinatra's legacy –but keeps it alive. The release date is no coincidence: it is Frank Sinatra's 110th birthday. And at the same time, it marks Tom O'Hara's 50th stage anniversary Tom O'Hara. In this musical tribute, classic big band energy meets a voice that touches the heart – full of respect, style and genuine love for music.

18 tracks. 1 message. Sinatra lives on. Recorded with attention to detail, arranged in the spirit of the originals, sung with a voice that is perfect for swing, elegance and big emotions. From world-famous classics to emotional rarities: Tom O'Hara not only brings them to the stage – he retells them. And he does so in his own unique way: with depth. With wit. With respect. 'The Sinatra Project' is not a copy. It is a statement. A musical love letter to an artist of the century – and at the same time a reflection of his own journey: from his first stage appearance at the age of 6 to the present day. Because when Tom O'Hara sings, every note resonates: Sinatra was more than music. He was an attitude to life.
