Title: Deep House 2026

Artist: VARIOUS

DEEP House 2026 – the soundtrack for good vibes!

Curated and mixed by Claus Pieper, this compilation delivers exactly what deep house fans love: laid-back beats, groovy basslines and plenty of feel-good moments.

From laid-back tracks like “Drifting Shadows” (Marga Sol) and “Echos In The Night” (Darles Flow) to real mood-boosters like “Makes You Feel Good” by E-Lisa – one highlight follows another. Added to this are the smooth original productions “Passing Through” and “Kaya”, which give the mix that typical Pieper vibe. And with “Midnight Sun” by Jan Blomqvist & Natascha Polke, things get really emotional and atmospheric once again.

Whether you're chilling out, cruising or warming up for the night – DEEP House 2026 gets you into the flow straight away.

Title: A Bailar Bachateca

Artist: ANTONIO ASCOLINO & ANITA ARAGONEZ

Bachateca is a new rhythm created by producer and DJ Mister Sam. It is a fusion of bachata, a music genre from the Dominican Republic, and disco, a music style that became popular worldwide in the 1970s and 1980s.

With lyrics about love and heartbreak, Bachateca can be danced in pairs or solo. It is a fantastic new musical concept, characterised by romance and sensuality. Whether with a partner or on your own, feel the music and let your body dance!!!!

Title: Concussion Of The Brain + Bonus

Artist: IRON AGE

- First reissue of a German underground gem from 1995
- The previously unreleased second album as a bonus!!
- Restored and remastered
- 16-page booklet with liner notes, memorabilia and lots of rare photos

IRON AGE were formed in 1990 in the quiet town of Elmshorn and can be considered part of the Hamburg scene. From quite early on, they were playing gigs almost every month in clubs and youth centres across Schleswig-Holstein. Drummer Ines Baum took care of the management, and it wasn't long before the band's gig dates were featured in Metal Hammer and Rock Hard. Even though the band's name comes from a MOTHER'S FINEST album, their influences couldn't be more diverse. They cite Death, Queensryche, Motörhead, Voivod, Dio, Helloween, Ozzy Osbourne, Iron Maiden, Black Sabbath, Judas Priest, Steve Vai, Rainbow, Thin Lizzy, Metallica, Gamma Ray, Rage and Megadeth. This makes it clear: they are diverse, yet never stray from the traditional spectrum. And what is normal today was still unusual in the early nineties: a mixed line-up consisting of women and men. A demo was released in both 1993 and 1994, then the decision was made to produce an EP with the small label Crossroads (Hamburg), which was released as „Concussion Of The Brain“. The CD was recorded half analogue, half digital. Distribution was handled by Semaphore, and this was followed by very good reviews in the relevant magazines, as well as many gigs in and around Hamburg. Work on the first full-length album began following a line-up change, also at the Crossroads Records studio. The material was even more ambitious and would certainly have stood a good chance in 1998. Unfortunately, there were internal problems, partly due to the wide range of styles among the individual musicians, so the band parted ways with Jan Eichelbaum, whom they claimed they were subsequently unable to replace. This marked the end of IRON AGE. Thanks to this re-release, the EP now gets a second chance, and the previously unreleased album can now be heard for the first time (as a bonus).
