Title: Shanghai Dream
Artist: TIAN JIANG

“Shanghai Dream” presents a deeply personal piano journey by Tian Jiang, composed during his early years in New York City in the 1990s. As one of China’s first virtuoso pianists, and far from his hometown of Shanghai, the young artist transformed experiences of distance, discovery and longing into a collection of intimate musical reflections.

The album unfolds like a lyrical narrative – from quiet nostalgia and solitude to resilience, hope and inner strength. “Ancient Spirit” draws on the timeless depths of Chinese philosophy, whilst the title track, “Shanghai Dream”, captures vivid impressions of a city remembered – its energy, its openness and its enduring emotional resonance. “Shanghai Dream” blends Eastern sensibility with Western expression, offering a sophisticated yet accessible listening experience that establishes Tian Jiang as a distinctive voice in the contemporary classical piano repertoire. Enjoy his second album, released on Zyx Music.

Title: The Fourth AlbumArtist: MODE-ONE

One of the most distinctive voices of modern Italo disco is back. With The Fourth Album, Mode-One presents a new collection of melodic, synth-driven tracks that remain true to the spirit of classic 80s Italo whilst bringing fresh energy to today's scene. The album was produced by Luis Rodriguez, one of the defining architects of the Euro-disco sound and producer of numerous genre-defining recordings. The first single, "Leave The Bad Away", has already been released, with a maxi-single version to follow shortly. A particular highlight of the album is the collaboration with Lian Ross, bringing together two iconic voices of the modern Italo disco movement. The Fourth Album is released on 24 April and continues Mode-One's mission to keep authentic Italo disco alive for a new generation.

Title: The Complete History 1985-1995
 Artist: SUDDEN DARKNESS / ECONOMIST

- Two names, one band – available together for the first time
- Sudden Darkness are known for one of the most expensive German rarities
- Economist's 1994 album is regarded as a diamond in the rough from the nineties
- Featuring musicians who later played in bands such as Manilla Road, Savage Grace, Trance, etc.
- Two extremely high-quality double CDs in a newly designed slipcase

Some careers take place posthumously. Sudden Darkness from Frankenthal/Ludwigshafen were a local heavy rock band who, through line-up changes, gradually shifted towards speed and thrash – mirroring the development of the metal scene in Germany from the mid-eighties onwards. They secured a record deal with GAMA (Stormwitch, Gravestone, Paul DiAnno, Tokyo Blade...), recorded their debut 'Fear Of Reality' in Stuttgart, but after 12 test pressings, nothing further came from GAMA. Today, this LP is one of the most sought-after and expensive rarities in German metal and has been sold twice on Discogs for around 1,000 euros. The band's entire catalogue has been compiled, restored and remastered by Golden Core on a double CD, complete with a comprehensive, lavish booklet. The story continued, albeit under the name Economist. With a melodic vocalist and a far more creative guitarist, the band shifted their style to a unique take on heavy power metal. Economist were unique and today fall into the category of 'no other band sounds like them'. Their debut album, New Built Ghetto Status, was licensed by Massacre Records and released on CD in 1994. Unfortunately, Economist were stylistically misrepresented in the promotional material; furthermore, there was a lack of touring and sufficient promotion. Despite good sales, Massacre showed no interest in the second, already completed album 'Mind Movies', which consequently remained unreleased. This renewed frustration, following the problems with GAMA, led to the band's definitive break-up in 1995. Years later, some of the musicians involved have become known through other bands. The collector's scene became aware of the rare test pressings, and the price of the self-pressed Economist CD (prior to the Massacre licence) rose. Not only were Sudden Darkness posthumously rewarded with a double CD, but so were Economist. Here, too, one can find every track the creative group ever recorded. That's history!

Title: Epic Metal Masters
Artist: LEGENDRY

- for fans of Manilla Road, Omen, Warlord, Slough Feg, Brocas Helm

- performances at festivals such as Keep It True Rising, Hell's Heroes, etc.

Legendry, from Pennsylvania, USA, were formed in 2015 and have been making waves in the metal scene ever since. Their idiosyncratic style, often described as 'quirky', is a treat for fans of bands like Manilla Road or Brocas Helm, though they've also enjoyed widespread success within the new NWOTHM movement. In recent months, the trio have played at festivals such as Keep It True Rising and Hell's Heroes, where epic metal was celebrated.

Golden Core released two out-of-print albums as a double CD, including new artwork and bonus material. In addition, the label released the new EP "Heavy Metal Adventure" in 2020, also featuring bonus material.

Under the name "Epic Metal Masters", these works have now been compiled in a newly designed slipcase.

This recording comes from the Wagner Festival in Bayreuth, was made in 1953 and once again presents Wagner's work under the brilliant baton of Joseph Keilberth. Featuring Max Lorenz, Astrid Varnay, Josef Greindl, Hermann Uhde, Martha Mödl, Ruth Siewert and Gustav Neidlinger.
